Broadband and Natural Disasters, Originally Broadcast: November 5, 2019

Overview

When a natural disaster strikes without warning, the top priority for electric co-ops is restoring electric services as soon and safely as possible. Co-ops that provide broadband/fiber optic services may be eligible to receive public assistance funding from the Federal Emergency Management Administration ("FEMA") for repairs/damages related to the event. However, there are several issues that need to be addressed to determine if broadband facilities are eligible for FEMA assistance. Join us on Nov. 5 at 1:00 pm ET to learn how to assess whether broadband facilities may be eligible for recovery of storm related expenses by FEMA.
