

NRECA's Rural Cooperative Cybersecurity Capabilities Program (RC3)*

$7.5 million

received from the U.S. Department of Energy in 2016 for RC3, a 3-year program to work with cooperatives' as they improve their cyber and physical security.

22,000

copies of RE Magazine's supplement and articles on cybersecurity distributed to members.

200+

leadership staff at 36 co-ops received cybersecurity training in 2017 and helped build an RC3 Self-Assessment toolkit.

194

staff from 152 electric co-ops received cybersecurity awareness training at six RC3 Cybersecurity Summits in 2017.

40

co-ops are helping each other and the broader co-op community learn cybersecurity skills through the RC3 SANS Voucher Training Program.

More than 100 co-op staff who participated in the RC3 Self-Assessment Research Program said it will help their co-op improve its cybersecurity capabilities.

One

co-op network, with NRECA's leadership, fostering a culture of cybersecurity.

*RC3 is starting the final year of this 3-year effort.

This report was prepared as an account of work sponsored by an agency of the United States Government. Neither the United States Government nor any agency thereof, nor any of their employees, makes any warranty, express or implied, or assumes any legal liability or responsibility for the accuracy, completeness, or usefulness of any information, apparatus, product, or process disclosed, or represents that its use would not infringe privately owned rights. Reference herein to any specific commercial product, process, or service by trade name, trademark, manufacturer, or otherwise does not necessarily constitute or imply its endorsement, recommendation, or favoring by the United States Government or any agency thereof. The views and opinions of authors expressed herein do not necessarily state or reflect those of the United States Government or any agency thereof.